When creating a custom product, we recommend setting up a separate product class (A product class is a content type that can be purchased). Having a separate product class will allow you to find the product easier, and control settings like eligible shipping methods, and whether or not the product is taxable. Once the Product Class is created that Product Class will automatically appear as a Content type. For the example below we are creating a custom product for our store t-shirt, however, the same steps can be used regardless of the product you wish to create.

CREATE A NEW PRODUCT CLASS
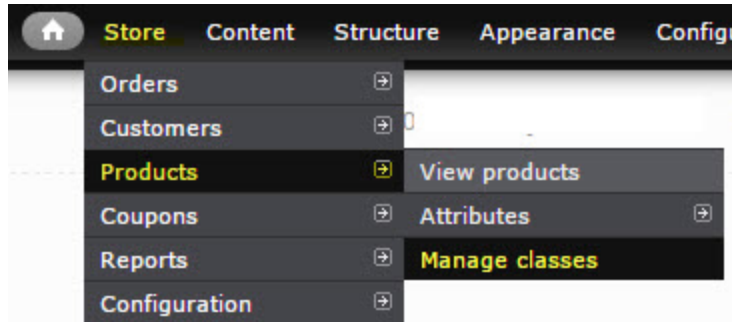

You have now finished creating the Product Class.

Two settings are always defaulted when you create a new product class, it is always set to be taxable and authoring information is always displayed.
