NOW IN PAPERBACK

The Care and Handling of Roses with Thorns

A Novel, by Margaret Dilloway

(Berkley Trade, 9780425260975, $16)

"Galilee Garner needs a kidney transplant. At 31, single, and teaching science in a private school, she breeds roses for pleasure. Dialysis every other day and her roses keep her life busy and organized. Then her 15-year-old niece shows up at school needing a place to live, and turns Galilee's life upside down. No longer able to think only of herself, she must come to terms with her responsibilities, and eventually realizes that change is inevitable, and could even be for the better!"

—Beth Carpenter, The Country Bookshop, Southern Pines, NC

Indiscretion

A Novel, by Charles Dubow

(William Morrow Paperbacks, 9780062201065, $14.99)

"Beautiful Maddy and her successful author husband, Harry, have an idyllic marriage. Living in the Hamptons, perfectly suited to one another, and always surrounded by a close circle of friends, they draw admirers like moths to a flame. Enter Claire, a young New Yorker, who quickly becomes enamored of the couple and inserts herself within their circle. While young and innocent, Claire's presence will ultimately destroy everything Maddy and Harry hold dear. Narrated by Maddy's childhood best friend, Walter, who is also secretly in love with her, this tale is mesmerizing in its telling."

—Meaghan Beasley, Island Bookstore, Duck, NC

A Killing in the Hills

A Novel, by Julia Keller

(Minotaur, 9781250028754, $14.99)

"Keller makes a powerful entry into the crime fiction field with the introduction of Bell Elkins, a prosecutor in rural West Virginia, who must not only deal with a triple murder but also must constantly contend with a deteriorating society beset by the scourge of methamphetamine. Finely drawn characters, strong plot lines, and keen attention to a growing problem in rural America make this a gripping read."

—Bill Cusumano, Nicola's Books, Ann Arbor, MI

Laura Lamont's Life in Pictures

A Novel, by Emma Straub

(Riverhead Trade, 9781594631825, $16)

"Despite what the gorgeous dresses, extravagant jewelry, and exotic mansions might suggest, movie stars are people, too. Elsa Emerson learns as a nine-year-old in Door County, Wisconsin, that she loves the limelight, and she spends her life both seeking it out and resisting it. Elsa moves to Hollywood, becomes film star Laura Lamont, loves, loses, succeeds, and fails. Laura Lamont's Life in Pictures gives readers a well-crafted, wistful, inside look into the glory days of Tinseltown."

—Hannah Johnson-Breimeier, Boswell Book Company, Milwaukee, WI

Monkey Mind

A Memoir of Anxiety, by Daniel Smith

(Simon & Schuster, 9781439177310, $16)

"This is the kind of memoir you've likely never read before. To be human is to understand what anxiety is, but few understand anxiety as a true mental disorder. Smith's real strength is his ability to provide the reader with very clear descriptions of what it means to suffer from chronic anxiety in ways that are both bracingly honest and self-deprecatingly funny. For readers who suffer anxiety, the world just may feel a tiny less lonely; for others, the hope is that this book will give insight into, and compassion for, those who do."

—Jennifer Wills Geraedts, Beagle Books & Bindery, Park Rapids, MN

The News from Spain

7 Variations on a Love Story,

by Joan Wickersham

(Vintage, 9780307949295, $15)

"The messengers delivering The News From Spain vary among the stories in Wickersham's collection, but each serve to remind the reader how a short story can rank with the thickest novel as a vehicle for rich character development and breathtaking plot. The stories take us from an assisted living home to a boys' prep school, from a New York apartment where a paralyzed dancer is confined to a first-person story by Mozart's librettist set within a contemporary tale. Anyone who doubts that the short story form offers a satisfying literary experience should read this extraordinary collection."

—Cheryl McKeon, Book Passage, San Francisco, CA

Shine Shine Shine

A Novel, by Lydia Netzer

(St. Martin's Griffin, 9781250020413, $14.99)

"Sunny Mann is nine months pregnant and the mother of an autistic four-year-old. Her mother is dying. On top of all this, her husband, Maxon, is on his way to the moon to colonize it with robots. Yet Sunny manages to pretend that her life is 'normal', until the aftermath of a minor car accident forces her to confront her perceptions and redefine who she is. Shine Shine Shine is a love story unlike any you've ever read, told in lyrical prose that will have you re-reading paragraphs simply to enjoy the author's voice and her way with words."

—Carla Ketner, Chapters Books & Gifts, Seward, NE

Shout Her Lovely Name

by Natalie Serber

(Mariner, 9780544002210, $13.95)

"From the first page, this extraordinary collection of short stories grabbed me by the throat and would not let go. Each one is filled with poignant, thought-provoking observations on the tenuous, yet unbreakable, bond between mothers and daughter. Serber has given readers a remarkable, heartfelt book to be savored, shared, and passed on from one generation to another."

—Anderson McKean, Page & Palette, Fairhope, AL

Sweet Tooth

A Novel, by Ian McEwan

(Anchor, 9780345803450, $15.95)

"Cold War espionage, illicit love affairs, and a coming-of-age story all wrapped into one? Only McEwan could pull off this ambitious story. Meet Serena: just out of university, recruited for MI5, and chosen for a special project with the code name Sweet Tooth. Serena is beautiful, intelligent, and becoming sure of herself as she settles into her adult life. Her confidence is shaken, however, as Sweet Tooth gets underway and the truth about friends, lovers, and MI5 colleagues comes to the surface. Once again, McEwan presents a beautifully crafted novel, one that keeps you turning the pages while encouraging deeper thoughts about love and trust."

—Kate Bonilla, Third Street Books, McMinnville, OR

Tigers in Red Weather

A Novel, by Liza Klausmann

(Back Bay Books, 9780316211321, $15)

"Pull up a chair, pour a cup of tea—or something stronger—and get ready to travel from post-WWII America to 1980s Martha's Vineyard. You are about to meet five beautifully drawn characters who will fascinate you and break your heart. Klausmann brilliantly weaves their lives together and, as the story unfolds, we find that each of them is covering up something. The dynamite ending comes as a complete surprise and yet it is so right. Don't miss this gem."

—Elaine Petrocelli, Book Passage, Corte Madera, CA

Wallflower in Bloom

A Novel, by Claire Cook

(Touchstone, 9781451672770, $14.99)

"Deirdre Griffin's life is not her own. Her high-maintenance, charismatic brother, Tag, is a New Age guru and a national sensation. As his gatekeeper and personal assistant, Deirdre's frustrations with her family, and herself, bring her to a hysterical moment. After drowning her sorrows in vodka, Deirdre gets herself voted onto Dancing With the Stars as a replacement by way of Tag's online followers. This is a very funny read that will make you roll your eyes about family!"

—Joanne Daggart, Where the Sidewalk Ends, Chatham, MA

You & Me

A Novel, by Padgett Powell

(Ecco, 9780062126146, $13.99)

"Experience the utter joy of shooting the breeze on the porch with a couple of crotchety, intelligent old codgers. Inventive, funny, and profound, Powell turns phrases like a dervish in this Southern-styled ersatz retelling of Waiting for Godot. A wonderful book that perfectly captures kicking back and trying to make sense of the crazy world streaming by."

—Josh Cook, Porter Square Books, Cambridge, MA
