

Your Next

Great Read

My Friends: A Novel

By Fredrik Backman

"This coming-of-age story is funny, heartfelt, and wise. Four teens with fierce loyalty to one another bond over their unstable families and a painting done by one of their own. I could read this again and again."

—Beth Mynhier, Lake Forest Book Store, Lake Forest, IL

Your Next

Great Read

The Names: A Novel

By Florence Knapp

"A mother goes to register her baby son's name on the birth certificate with three choices. The Names takes these three names and gives us three distinct stories of how life played out in a family living with domestic violence. Brilliant."

—Mamie Potter, Quail Ridge Books, Raleigh, NC

Your Next

Great Read

The Lilac People: A Novel

By Milo Todd

"Focusing on the experiences of queer and trans people during World War II, Milo Todd tells stories of suffering, survival, and resilience without leaning into unnecessary trauma. A timely and powerful novel."

—Hezekiah Olorode, Old Town Books, Alexandria, VA

Your Next

Great Read

The Road to Tender Hearts: A Novel

By Annie Hartnett

"How many bad decisions can one family make and still survive? What starts as the road trip from hell does, indeed, create tender hearts. Come along for a feel good read that takes no prisoners."

—Anita Gett, Main Street Books, Davidson, NC

Your Next

Great Read

The Pretender: A Novel

By Jo Harkin

"The Pretender reads like Kurt Vonnegut wrote Hilary Mantel's Wolf Hall by way of Ken Follett! A cousin of princes raised as a farm boy discovers he is an heir to the throne...if only Henry VII would die. Terrific!"

—William Carl, An Unlikely Story, Plainville, MA

Your Next

Great Read

The Correspondent: A Novel

By Virginia Evans

"The Correspondent is an homage to the written word. As Sybil writes her letters, we journey through her life. Through her grief, her friendships, her family, her loves, and her regrets, we are gifted an indelible character."

—Mary McBride, Monstera's Books, Overland Park, KS

Your Next

Great Read

The Emperor of Gladness: A Novel

By Ocean Vuong

"Ocean Vuong's sophomore novel is a societal epic as seen beneath a microscope. A lonely young man meets a lonely older woman, and after that? Everything. This book is a quiet marvel."

—Laurel Rhame, Phoenix Books, Essex Junction, VT

Your Next

Great Read

My Best Friend's Honeymoon

By Meryl Wilsner

"If you're a sapphic who's been in love with your best friend, have a seat. Wilsner paints a picture of exactly what that feels like and cranks up the spice. If you've ever been there, this book is beautiful catharsis."

—Katey Salogar, Literati Bookstore, Ann Arbor, MI

Your Next

Great Read

The Dad Rock That Made Me a Woman (American Music Series)

By Niko Stratis

"Muddled by memory and alcohol, a picture of Niko's life forms: she's made you a mixtape in the form of an essay collection. The stories that make up her life gently remind us it's never too late to recover or rebuild yourself."

—Kitri Madera, Third Place Books, Lake Forest Park, WA

Your Next

Great Read

The Original Daughter: A Novel

By Jemimah Wei

"It's 1996 and Genevieve's family lives in a tiny apartment in Singapore. Her grandfather had a secret family, and her family is saddled with an unwanted daughter to raise, changing Genevieve's world. An accomplished and absorbing debut."

—Robin Glossner, Odyssey Bookshop, South Hadley, MA

Your Next

Great Read

Ordinary Time: Lessons Learned While Staying Put

By Annie B. Jones

"Fans of Annie Jones will love this peek behind the scenes, but even for those unfamiliar with Annie's story, these essays are deeply relatable. Perfect for people who stayed in their hometowns, who lead a quieter life, and who have struggled with their faith."

—Claire McWhorter, River & Hill Books, Rome, GA

Your Next

Great Read

The Man Made of Smoke: A Novel

By Alex North

"Highly suspenseful, dark, and gritty, The Man Made of Smoke is a mystery and true crime must read. This explores how trauma informs and affects our present, and makes for a truly twisted, dark read."

—Mirna Villeda, Timbre Books, Ventura, CA

Your Next

Great Read

Gabriële

By Anne Berest, Claire Berest, Tina Kover (Transl.)

"A beautiful book about the talented French musician Gabriële Buffet and her tumultuous relationship with the artist Francis Picabia. A wonderful book for art and history lovers, and anyone who wants a novel about a strong woman."

—Kelly Evert, Village Books, Bellingham, WA

Your Next

Great Read

The Manor of Dreams

By Christina Li

"I was immersed in this lyrical world where dreams hold power and the past lingers. With rich atmosphere and heartfelt characters, the story explores identity, family, and the balance between holding on and letting go."

—Jessica Porter, Inklings Book Shoppe, Lakeland, FL

Your Next

Great Read

The Missing Half: A Novel

By Ashley Flowers, Alex Kiester

"Ashley Flowers' knowledge of true crime has lent to her ability to tell crime based thrillers. Two women seek justice for their missing sisters and embark on a thrilling journey with many twists and turns."

—Kristen Shidemantle, The Little Green Bookstore, Zelienople, PA

Your Next

Great Read

Old School Indian

By Aaron John Curtis

"Curtis is a pugilist on the page, fighting tropes in a landscape that uses language to marginalize the Indigenous experience. Abe Jacobs wrestles colonization in the world and with the disease inside his body, forces that gnaw at his very existence."

—Arvin Ramgoolam, Townie Books, Crested Butte, CO

Your Next

Great Read

Shopgirls: A Novel

By Jessica Anya Blau

"Shopgirls is a lovely and humorous coming-of-age story. Zippy experiences the ups and downs common to many young women as she learns more about her absent father, finds a partner, and navigates San Francisco in the age of AIDS."

—Camille Kovach, Completely Booked, Murrysville, PA

Your Next

Great Read

Brighter than Scale, Swifter than Flame

By Neon Yang

"A very well written knight's tale about honor, oaths, and duty in the face of what is truly right. Subtle themes of geopolitics are set carefully alongside the disarming nature of real love. So easy to recommend."

—Miranda Parman, Katy Budget Books, Houston, TX

Your Next

Great Read

No One Was Supposed to Die at This Wedding: A Novel (The Vacation Mysteries #2)

By Catherine Mack

"Catherine Mack is quickly becoming one of my favorite authors, and this book series is quickly climbing to one of my favorite reads! Another 10/10 read for Mack in this hilarious wedding vacation romp."

—Tammy Klawitter, Lykke Books, New Ulm, MN

Your Next

Great Read

The Amalfi Curse: A Bewitching Tale of Sunken Treasure, Forbidden Love, and Ancient Magic on the Amalfi Coast

By Sarah Penner

"One woman caught between love and duty, another between her father's dying wish and the deceit of her company. Both will have to use their wits, and give up a part of themselves, to surmount seemingly impossible hurdles."

—Ariel Hardee, Ruby's Books, Folsom, CA

Your Next

Great Read

The Staircase in the Woods

By Chuck Wendig

"This creepy — or rather terrifying — novel connects everything one wants and needs from a great (if not horrific) read. Be prepared to find yourself tense all the way to the end! Not for the faint of heart!"

—Kirsten Hess, The End Bookstore, Allentown, PA

Your Next

Great Read

Open, Heaven: A Novel

By Seán Hewitt

"Seán Hewitt washes away time's silt to reveal cavernous torrents of desire long-withheld — now, blissfully, given voice. Open, Heaven captures the contradictions thrown into relief by first love, making this debut agonizing and euphoric and equally unforgettable."

—Mathuson Anthony, Book Club, New York, NY

Your Next

Great Read

Bat Eater and Other Names for Cora Zeng: A Darkly Funny, Gory, and Ghostly Horror Novel

By Kylie Lee Baker

"For anyone who enjoys 2000s Japanese horror movies. This is the only work of fiction I've read that has successfully incorporated the COVID pandemic without feeling contrived. The commentary about anti-Asian racism is poignant."

—Jennifer Kirnec, Old Ways Books, Bluffton, IN

Your Next

Great Read

State Champ

By Hilary Plum

"When a doctor at a women's health clinic is arrested for providing abortions post-Dobbs, Angela, the receptionist, goes on hunger strike in an attempt to free her. The angry, darkly funny prose hits like shards of shattered glass."

—Grace Harper, Mac's Backs, Cleveland Heights, OH

Your Next

Great Read

The Sea Gives Up the Dead: Stories

By Molly Olguín

"There is no getting away from death here. However, there's a subtlety that resonates throughout the wonderfully smooth and lithe prose that makes these tales a joy to read. Absolutely fantastic!"

—Randy Schiller, Left Bank Books, St. Louis, MO

Your Next

Great Read

All Fours: A Novel

By Miranda July

"A compulsively readable novel that follows a middle-aged artist as she undergoes a sexual and spiritual awakening. I loved this meditation on aging, restlessness, isolation, obsession, and the trials and triumphs of self-reinvention."

—Caitlyn Lyles, Hooked Community, Lansing, MI

Your Next

Great Read

The Book of Doors: A Novel

By Gareth Brown

"We all know books are metaphoric doors — what if they were literal doors as well? Full of fascinating characters, mystery, and magical books, this debut novel will appeal to fans of The Starless Sea."

—Keith Glaeske, East City Bookshop, Washington, DC

Your Next

Great Read

Don't Swipe Right: A Novel

By L.M. Chilton

"Twisty, smart, and kept me guessing until the very end — and the absolute skewering of dating apps is so entertaining. I felt breathless page after page as Gwen races around town to find a serial killer. Loved it!"

—Carolyn Hutton, Mrs. Dalloway's Literary & Garden Arts, Berkeley, CA

Your Next

Great Read

Listen for the Lie: A Novel

By Amy Tintera

"Darkly witty and beautifully thrilling, Listen for the Lie is an amazing adult debut from Amy Tintera. This murder mystery is filled with comedy, drama, and a riveting pace that will make readers fall completely in love!"

—Sara Canelon, Adventures By The Book, San Diego, CA

Your Next

Great Read

Remarkably Bright Creatures: A Novel

By Shelby Van Pelt

"Meet a hardworking widow, a lost soul, and a giant Pacific octopus (yes, an octopus) in this heartfelt story that reveals there's still plenty of living to do for those with their eyes – and hearts – open to the unexpected. A bright debut!"

—Annie Romano, An Unlikely Story, Plainville, MA

Your Next

Great Read

Welcome to the Hyunam-dong Bookshop: A Novel

By Hwang Bo-reum, Shanna Tan (Transl.)

"Burnt out and drained, Yeongju fulfills her dreams of surrounding herself in stories and opening a bookshop. What starts off as a tidy, uplifting story of joy and redemption transforms into a choose-your-own-adventure of levity for readers."

—Thu Doan, East Bay Booksellers, Oakland, CA

Your Next

Great Read